

A Treasured Feast

Your search for authentic Mexican cuisine ends at El Dorado Cantina, 3025 S. Industrial Road. A hidden gem nestled next to gentlemen's club Sapphire, El Dorado Cantina's menu features signature dishes from several regions of Mexico, created by Chef Paco, whose culinary philosophy relies on sustainable ingredients, locally sourced and free of GMOs, antibiotics and pesticides. Start your meal with tableside guacamole; go exotic with chapulines—sautéed grasshoppers; or order a round of street tacos, filled with morsels of pork, chicken or carne asada. Regional entrées are abundant and allow you to taste the variety of Mexican flavors. We tried the chicken milaneza from Mexico's capital—a thin, juicy, garlic-marinated chicken breast topped with tomato salad—and the crusted cilantro tilapia, native to Puerto Vallarta, which was tender and flavorful, topped with cilantro garlic butter. The restaurant also features more than 100 tequilas, a specialty cocktail menu and red and white sangrias, as well as the best flan we have ever had the pleasure to eat. 702-722-2289
